DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

Figure 2A, 2B should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is not in narrative form and limited to a single paragraph. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Background of the invention.

Background of the invention, figs. 2A-2B and related text on pages 1-2 discloses the claimed semiconductor capacitor including a tantalum oxide layer positioned between the first and second electrodes. The instant product-by-process claims are product claims, the process limitations will not impact patentability to an old product (In re Johnson 157 USPQ 620; In re Brown 173 USPQ 685) unless they distinguish the product over the prior art product (In re Luck 177 USPQ 523). In this case, the final product of tantalum oxide layers formed by either process as disclosed in the Background of the invention or as claimed in the instant invention are the same.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Narwankar et al. (cited by applicant).

Narwankar et al., fig. 2E shows the claimed capacitor structure including a tantalum oxide layer 210 positioned between first electrode 206 and second electrode 212. Text on col. 5, fourth paragraph discloses the use of TAT-DMAE precursor and O₂ for forming tantalum oxide layer at substrate temperature of between 300-500°C.

Narwankar et al. does not disclose the use of ozone as an oxidizer or first and second electrodes of noble metal or metal nitride.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used either O₂ or O₃ as an oxygen source since it well-known gas source of oxygen, and have used noble metal or metal nitride for capacitor electrodes since it is difficult to oxidize and prevent the formation of tantalum oxide.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Sandhu et al., col. 5, third paragraph shows the well-known gaseous oxidants such as O₂ or O₃, N₂O, NO₂; Derderrian et al., Hasebe et al., Agarwal disclose various capacitors with tantalum oxide as a dielectric layer.
